International Student Activities and Societies Election Rules and Regulations

For all elections to be free and fair, there are several rules and regulations that must be followed, and this document outlines these rules and regulations for student society's elections. It is the responsibility of the candidate to ensure that they take reasonable steps to understand the election rules and regulations before the election commences.

All campaigns should act within the spirit of the election. If candidates are in any doubt about the interpretation of these rules and regulations, please contact the Election Committee.

Note that breaches of these rules and regulations may result in sanctions including disqualification.

Election

The Election Committee members are assigned by the Director of Social and Cultural Activities. The election is overseen by the Election Committee who are responsible for the good conduct of the election and interpretation of the rules and regulations of the elections. They also determine complaints about the election, candidates and campaigns. We are the first point of contact, responsible for candidate engagement, day-to-day supervision and management of the election.

Rules and Regulations

The rules and regulations for the Students' Societies Elections are intended to provide our students with guidance on how to stand as a nominee and get involved in elections. These rules are developed under the following basic principles:

- a) Election activity and campaigning should be conducted in line with the University Policies, Constitution and Laws, other relevant University or Society Regulations, and the law. And these Laws and Society Regulations are all in full force and shall apply to student societies elections
- b) Students must be free to cast their vote without undue pressure or influence
- c) Candidates must treat other candidates, students, staff and members of the public with respect
- d) Candidates must not undermine the fair and democratic running of elections
- e) Candidates must respect the campus environment and the community
- f) The Election Officers will make use of these principles in the way that they conduct the election and interpret the rules that they follow.

The Election Committee reserves the right to make changes to the rules but will ensure that all candidates are informed of any alterations. Changes to rules will come into effect immediately, unless otherwise stated.
